TREMBLE, TITUS.

HACKETTSTOWN'S GREAT TRAGEDY IN-

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch.

Hackettstown, N. J., May 7.—The hours draws near when the Grand-jury of Warren County will set Janitor Titus free or indicthim for the murder of Tillie Smith. To look at the lazy picture of peace on the blazing hot stoop of the old Court-house at Belvidere, one would hardly imagine that the loiling men basking there were witnesses in one of the most remarkable and mysterious murder cases on record. Down-stairs the prisoner waited in his ceil; up-stairs, a brawny, clearheaded Grand-jury toiled from 9 o'clock in the morning till 6 o'clock at night, over the ugly record. Prosecutor Smith worked until he had a headache. In the little white ante-room leading to the night, over the ugly record. Prosecutor Smith worked until he had a headache. In the little white ante-room leading to the Grand-jury room was a perfect army of men, waiting to be called, and before the day was done a group of five mads from the Methodist Institute were brought in. Dr. Whitney, the president of the institute, was the first witness. He remained with the jury nearly two hours, and when he came out seemed much moved. Dr. Whitney is a very important witness. It has given him great pain to be placed in his present position, as Titus had been one of his most trusted employes for many years. Dr. John S. Cook, who made the autopsy and who believes that the girl was pure and was assaulted when dead or dying, spent half an hour in giving evidence. William Van Sickel was also called. He was formerly janitor at the institute and was an INTIMATE COMPANION OF THUS at one time. The testimony of Van Sickel was also called. He was formerly janitor at the institute and was an interest of the strongest links. It had been said that the witness would testify only as to the character of the prisoner, but this is not so. Mr. Van Sickel's declarations relate to facts showing an active motive on the part of Titus. Bridget Grogan, the gray-haired cook of the Institute, and one of her assistants were both examined. Mr. Deremer, the storekeeper, and the two Stoddards, father and son, all of whom are said to have remarked the janitor's great agitation before Tillie's corpse was discovered, were also present. Dr. Martin, on whom Titus called on his way home that morning, was a witness, One of the girls in the institute gave evidence bearing upon the character and habits of Titus, and of such a specific nature that if Titus is indicted it must become a part of the case. There was another female witness waiting to be called who, it is said, will give some every damaging testimony against the

DYNAMITE AND BOMBS.

The Chicago Police Seizing the Anarchists' Ammunition.

End of the Switchtenders' Big Freight Blockade.

-A Significant Card Issued To-Day Owing to a Strike of the Hands-The Labo

CHICAGO, May 7.—The police have discovered more dynamite material, but refuse to say where it was found as they have hopes of discovering the manufacturer. One was formed of a shell of lead, about four inches in diameter and;as round as an orange. The shell is hole supposed to have been made by the bomb on Desplanes street. The bomb is filled with explosives and some iron bullets. In the shell near the nut; a hole, one-eighth of an inch in diameter, has been drilled, and in this a fuse was inserted. The entire bomb, fast-gas pipe, each about eight inches in length. One is about an inch and other an inch and a half in diameter. The bottom of the pipe is filled with lead cast in clay. The top, in which the fuse is placed, is made of a neat block of wood. It is intimated that the men, who made these bombs knew who made the one fired on Tuesday night. All the officers, now believe that the firing of the bomb on Tuesday night was a little premature and the vile schemers miscalculated their power. If they had rested quietly for a time, the result a hell in Chicago."

Saul Smith, one of the Coroner's jury in the inquest on the body of Officer Deegan, is much agitated on account of mysterious threats made against him by anarchistic friends of Spies. In conversation last evening, he said; "I live within about two blocks of Spies" place, and there is considerable excitemen out there. Why, the anarchists have already threatened me, and I don't know what minute they will throw a bomb in my house and blow everything up."
"Have they threatened you?"

"Indeed they have, and I don't know what moment they'll pounce upon me. They're a Mr. Smith has taken out a permit to carry

THE REMETY FUND.

The donations to the fund for the benefit of the policemen wounded, and the families of those killed in Tuosday night's riot have reached the sum of $32,000.

State's Attorney Grinnell has stated that he has obtained ample legal evidence implicating Spies, Fielden and Sohwab as the leaders in getting up the terrible riot on Desplaines street, which resulted in the destruction of several lives and the malming of many persons. This evidence will be very damaging to the three men named when they shall come to be tried before the Criminal Court. In order to find out whether the opinion of other prominent members of the bar sustained or not the conclusions of the State's Attorney several well-known members of the bar have been interviewed. The opinion of all them, without any exception, is that so far as they know what the evidence is, it is fully sufficient to secure the conviction of all three men. They also hold that the evidence is sufficient to secure their conviction for murder and the infliction of the death penalty.

The lumber dealers of the city subscribed $5,000 to be added to the police fund. The subscription now bids fair to reach $50,000.

The Arbeiter-Zeitung makes its appearance again this morning, though in very reduced form. The old paper was a large, prosperous looking folio sheef, while to-day's issue is a ten by twelve hand bill. The leading article to-day is addressed to the workingmen of Ohicago, and after relating the difficulties they had in publishing the paper, owing to the arrest of all the printers and editors. The paper rest of all the printers and editors, the paper says;

These twenty-two printers were arrested on the rideulous charge of murder-people who did nothing but their work and for which they were paid. Bail was refused them. On all sides there was a systematic attempt to make the responsance of the paper impossible. You see, then, workingmen, that the ruling class understands better than you the value of a labor organ, "We will show you that aithough the recklessness of some may temporarily confuse, it can't disrupt our working party. We therefore appeal to you workingmen. You will see that a workingmen we he had soon that the fight for freedom and rightward and unhenitatinessys conductor. We shall continue the sight for freedom and rightward and unhenitatinessys conductor. The print of the ruling classes. The paper is an article which the socialist now under arrest, was treated by Ur. Dexter this morning. The doctor states that from the course of the builet Fielden evidently shot himself while carrying his rovolver.

In another part of the paper is an article which indirectly charges that the dynamite which indirectly charges that the dynamite which the police found in the building was brought there by the officers themselves. They say:

A short time after they reappeared and arrested all contents with the paper, and behold they also found not the said to prove the state of the paper and behold they also found the said to prove that the printers are murderers.

The writer then goes on to say that the whole thing is a conspiracy to suppress the paper forever. In a conspicuous part of the handbill spirited the comments of the New York Yolk Zeiting on the arrest on Schenck and Braunschwig in that city.

THE WOUNDED AT THE HOSPITAL.

All the wounded officers at the County Hospital, with three exceptions, were resting comfortably this morning and showing signs of improvement. The three exceptions were Officers Flavin and Nelson, and Jacob Hansen. Officer Redden was lying in the same room with Flavin. He had improved somewhat during the night, but his recovery is not yot assured.

MADDEN'S MURDERER DYING.

THE CHICAGO EJOTERS.

New York, May 7.—The Herald this morning prints an interesting interview with Alexander Sullivan of Chicago. In commenting on the editorials of the London papers on the Chicago riots Mr. Sullivan said: "Il have read the report with much interest, and some of the things said by the London press are quite remarkable. The Globe missed the truth when it compared the Irish with the alien anarchists of Chicago. The people in Ireland who are struggling for self-government, peace and proper remuneration for labor are natives of Ireland, while the violent rioters who have caused the outbreak in Chicago are not citizens of this country. They can only be called aliens, who are in utter ignorance not only of our institutions, but also in a great measure of our language. Many of them have not been in the country for any length of time, and cannot speak a word of English. They have no organ in the English language. They have onme here the victims of some fancied or real grievances in their own language and the barricade."

"Were any laboring men among the rioters?"

"Most certainly not. The meeting held that night was in no way a workingmen's meeting. The intellectual workingmen of this country know that violence is not an American remedy. They also know that the workingmen of to-day, may to-morrow be the employer. This change they also know is brought about by industry, sobriety and peace. The laws of the country provide ample remedy for every known grievance and the people have the power of additional remedies as new grievances arise."

"Is there danger of a repetition of the out-the people have the power of additional remedies as new grievances arise."

"Is there danger of a repetition of the outbreak?"

"About all there is of the strength of the anarchists has already come to the surface. They will not increase in number for they are loathed by the industrious, intelligent and law-abiding working people of Chicago."

"Do you know inspector Bonfield, Mr. Sullivan?"

"I know him thoroughly well. In fact he

"Do you know inspector Bonfield, Mr. Sullivan?"

'I know him thoroughly well. In fact he is my client and I am defending him in two cases for damages charging him with using unnecessary severity in dealing with strikers last year. He is one of the bravest and best police officers in the United States. It is absurd to say that he has any hostility to workingmen. He is a workingman himself and probably does more work per day all the year around than the men who are assailing him. I am in sympathy with the eight-hour movement and hope to see it succeed. The proposed reduction of time could and should be discussed like any other humane proposition, and without any ill-will between employer and employe. Please say for me," added Mr. Sullivan, "that the comments of the English press rebound upon themselves. The St. James Gazette speaks of the instigators of the trouble as 'alliens." That is exactly the trouble in Ireland. Let them make the same remarks about the alliens who are trying to ruin Ireland and then the case will be put in its true light."

THE FREIGHT-HANDLERS.

Judge Gresham Gives the Receivers a Sound Rap for Neglect of Duty.

CHICAGO, May 7 .- Judge Gresham was presented with another petition yesterday for protection for the Wabash Rallroad against the striking freight-handlers. In accordance with his ideas it was signed by the receivers of the company instead of by their attorneys. An affidavit was submitted by their attorneys. An affidavit was submitted by the Superintendent of Transportation, K. H. Wade, stating that some of his men wanted to resume work but the atthers would not permit them to do so. Judge Gresham said he would make an order on the request for Deputy Marshais to-day, but it would not be agreeable to the receiver, should it be and order ordering the Marshais to take the property in charge. If he should decide to make such an order he should also remove Messrs. Humphries and Tutt as receivers of the Illinois property and appoint a good Illinois man in their place, who would be receiver in fact and not in name only. The conduct of the receivers during the strike was not by any means satisfactory. Humphries was in New York, where he appeared to spend most of his time. Tutt was in St. Louis, and neither had appeared to do much as officers of the road. One or both, should be on the scene of danger, and not content themselves with remaining at so safe a distance from whence his telegram could bring them to this city.

THE BLOCKADE RAISED.

The blockade at the Fortieth street crossing of the Western Indians Road was raised at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Up to that hour eight engines and two trains had been stopped. Special Officer Ballard of the Wabash Railroad sent down fifty special officers and soon trained them to throw the switches, thus starting the trains.

CHICAGO CLOAKMAKERS.

Demand for Eight Hours and 25 per Cent Advance. who work only six months out of the year, at m average salary of 53 per week, have made a hours work and an increase of 25 per cent in their wages. One of the contractors admits that the cloakmakers have been miserably paid, and he asserts that the wholesale dealers have grown rich out of the profits on their work. The contractors number about seven hundred and they are organized as Assembly No. 5,120 of the knights of Labor. At a meeting held last night they expressed their willingness to grant the demands of their employes, providing they can induce the wholesale dealers to pay an advance on the present price of the goods. A committee was appointed to lay the matter before the leading houses.

The following gentlemen were elected in their places: Thomas O'llium, Win. Paine and John Huff. Thomas O'Rourke was added to the board, so as to make up the requisite number of seven. The meeting of the delegates continued until 3 o'clock this morning, when an unanimous vote was taken upholding the strikeers in their refusal to accept the terms of agreement offered by the company. The support of the organization was also pledged and the meeting adjourned. O'Donnell has been considered the leader in all the troubles of the street car companies with their employes which have occurred this spring. He was the man that ordered the last general tie up on all the lines in this city, and is now under indictment for conspiracy. It was his high-handed acts that lost the strikers the sympathy of the public of New York. That he has injured the cause of the Knignts of Labor in this city, cannot be doubted, but the action of Assembly 75 in demanding his resignation because he was not aggressive enough will certainly further drive sympathy away from the Protective Association.

Builders' and Laborers' Strike.

New York, May 7 .- Three hundred builder and absorers in the employ or metric & sons at Rochester have struck work for nife hours work per day, except Saturday, when they demand eight hours. The firm will stop work rather than accede to the demand. Mr. Metz made an effort this morning to ascertain whether any of his men belonged to the Knights of Labor, but was unsuccessful. It is his intention not to re-employ anyone belonging to that organization.

Settling Strikes CINCINNATI, May 7 .- The settlements with strikers more than over-balance the new strikes. The hostlers at the street railway stables have struck for $12 a week. The carpenters have issued of reniar calling on all to work eight hours for eight hours' pay, so as to give employment to the idle. It is thought that most of the carriage factories will be run-ning by Monday. The Mayor keeps up pre-cautionary measures.

Eight Hours for Gas Men has instituted the eight-hour system. It has heretofore been the custom of the 120 firemen to work in two shifts of twelve hours each at $2.75 per man and shift. In the new system the men work in three shifts of eight hours each at $2.50 per shift. Sixty new men will necessarily be employed.

met last night to take action on the above card. It was unastisfactory to them, as it did not recognize their Union. A card was then drawn up by them, of which they have caused the publication in another column stating that they have been misrepresented in the papers; that they have never demanded the eighthour system, have never desired to strike and only wanted the privileges of their brothren in other cities. Another card by the same union cails upon the workmen to give a preference to Schnaider's beer, as that proprietor was the only one to recognize their union. Casper Heep addressed the meeting, counseling order and steadfarmess. A committee of six was appointed to again visit the proprietors and ask a recognition of the union.
A reporter cailed upon Richard Schlagintwelt, the President of the union, to-day to ask the meaning of the card recommending Schnaider's beer. The gentleman said that it meant only what it said and would be kept standing in the papers until further notice.

from Mr. Stifel, I resident of the Brewers Association, refusing to recognize our union."

A reporter called at the brewery of the Anheuser-Busch Company and found Mr. Adolphus Busch. The card published by the Brewers' Union calling upon the workingmen to give the preference to Schnaider's brew was read to Mr. Busch. He said that he regarded it as an uncalled for move on the part of the union. The brewers were doing all that was fair by the men. Mr. Schnaider had been at their meeting and had signed the agreement and rules with the rest of the proprietors.

When told that the union were satisfied with the conditions as printed and posted by the association, but that they demanded recognitions as norder. Mr. Busch said that he saw no objection to reorganizing a strictly brewers' union, and in his opinion the sasociation would see none, but they did not like to be dictated to by men from other labor organizations who knew nothing of the brewing business whatever.

THE KNIGHTS' COMMITTEE.

While the reporter was with Mr. Busch Messrs. Bailey, Delay and Irons, of the Knights of Labor called. They were on a friendly visit of inspection to the large establishment. Mr. Builey wished to remark incidentally that the brewers' letter to Powderly had not been overlooked or neglected, but would be considered and replied to at the next meeting of the general assembly which would occur this month, The rules printed by the association for the government of the employes were read to the visitors. The gentlemen were unanimous in their approval of them as generous and fair.

Mr. Irons said that if all trades were as fairly treated there would be no labor troubles. Mr. Delay said that the pay of a brewery laborer was as high as the average pay of mechanics on the Southwestern rall-roads.

THE PRESIDENT'S BRIDE-ELECT.

Miss Folsom's Friend Miss Gregg—A Meeting of Buffalo Seamstresses.

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch.

Buffalo, May 7.—Miss Frankie Folsom, the President's bride-elect, and Miss Ida Gregg, one of her chosen bridemaids, have quarreled. The story goes that Miss Folsom suspects Miss Gregg of baying given to the newspapers the there would be scarcely any grain in this market for option trading or for anything else. It would be a milling market only and just enough grain would come in to keep the millis going. The inducements held out by the elevators and the drumming done by large receiving houses have brought the inamense amount of corn to his market this year. If this drumming had not been done, and if these houses had not gone into the country and bought the grain, taking all risks and paying all charges on it, the corn wouldhave gone to Chioago and St. Louis would have been left. It is right that the men who have taken these risks and have put their money into the corn should be allowed to make their profits on it. Any one else can do the same thing and get the same rates from the elevators. The millers can buy their wheat and carry it, if they choose, to the extent of being dependent on some one else. The troube is that the exporters and shippers don't want to run the risk nor invest the money, but want to wait until they can turn it over and then have the stuff given to them. The clevators do not hold the corn that is here, but they make it possible to bring it here and to make this a corn market. The holding of the corn here has made a channel for money which would otherwise be unused."

The millers are warm on the other side and the commission men generally indorse Albers' statement. They say that the reason outsiders do not bring the grain is on accounted and the counters of the property of the corn is the property of the corn is the property of the counters of the property of the corn is the property of the corn is the property of the corn is the property of the counters of the FRONTIER.

MONTREAL, Quebec, May 7.—The season of navigation opened this year under very promising auspices, and shipping companies are promised a profit for the first time in several years. The rates of freight on grain are 2s 9d to Liverpool and 2s to London, Glasgow and other British ports. A new feature of the ocean shipping this year will be the inauguration of a trade in raw sugar of beet-root production with Germany. Three or four steamers have been chartered to this port for cargoes of the freight and on the return voyage will carry grain cargoes to British ports. There is no less a quantity than 1,000,000 bushels of grain at the present time coming from lake ports.

The soldiers at the garrison here received with cheers the orders to march to the frontier.

Experiments with a pneumanc cabinet. The cabinet was placed on the stage and excited a great deal of interest before the section was called to order. It is about five feet high and large enough for a man to sit inside. The material need in its construction is wrought trop, and a sheet of plate giass fills half of the front. The giass lays upon a rim bag of compressed air, and is bolted down so firmly that the edges are perfectly air tight. The door is at the back, and is provided with lock botts and slots, similar to those of a safe door, only they work outside of the cabinet. The use of this dablinet is to ald in the cure of consumption, and is constructed on the approved sheory that an ineligence that all portions of his lungs may be made active will be enabled to throw off the disease. In effecting the cure a patient sits inside the cabinet. The lart is partially exhausted from about him by the beliows.

tightly. In his mouth is a rubber tube connected with an India rubber fauncet opening outside the cabinet. The air is partially exhausted from about him by the bellows, thus relieving the pressure of the atmosphere from 15 pounds to the square inch. On opening the faunce the outside air rushes through the tube and to the remotest air cells of the lungs. The movement of the bellows is aiternated, and the air is expelled from the lungs, so the breathing is mechanical and outside the volition of the operator. The experiments of Dr. Williams, assisted by Joseph Ketchum, the inventor, illustrated this in an unique manner.

A CALF'S LUNGS

were placed inside the cabinet, and the air about them rarified. On opening the faucet such a volume of air rushed in that the dead lungs filled and swelled to four times their former size. A reversal of the bellows movement expelled the air. Another feature in the usefulness of the cabinet was also illustrated. It is not only necessary that the diseased and closed air-cells should be opened and made to perform their normal functions, but medicines must be introduced to aid in the restoration of the tubes and cells. To effect this a vapor spray laden with the medicines thought to be efficacious is made to play at the india rubber faucet, and as the air rushes into the lungs the vapor is carried in with it, and on the reversal of the movement by condensation the vapor is deposited even in the ultimate air cells. A spray of ink was carried into the cair's lungs, and to show that the deposit was made to play at the india rubber faucet, and as the air rushes into the lungs the vapor is carried in with it, and on the reversal of the movement by condensation the vapor is deposited even in the ultimate air cells. A spray of ink was carried into the cair's lungs, and to show that the deposit was made to the physicians in the section. schools. There is also a landed sndewment of over 60,000,000 acres of public lands. It is the proud boast of Texas that she has the largest school fund of any State in the Union. The feeling that on a good system of education depends the future welfare of our country, finds nowhere warmer supporters than in Texas and the public schools of the State are attracting the attention of thinking people throughout the Union, and are the means of bringing many to settle here.

In the center of Texas, is a region of country proverbial for native richness and fertility. It is named for Neil Moleonam, who settled here in 1846. In those old days the early settlers suffered many privations and had much to contend with. But now all is changed, and where once hostile tribes of Indians roamed the plains, a constant terror to their white neighbors, are now to be found comfort and plenty, and thousands of happy homes dot the prairies and nestle among the nills of Moleonam County.

THE SOIL,

Is nearly all capable of a high state of cultivation and varies in its kinds. The upland prairies are a black, waxy land; the valleys a dark brown; the timbered lands a gray sandy color, while the bottom lands are a deep dark color and are extremely rich and productive. In point of fact the capabilities of these soils are the wonder of every observer. One can grow anything he chooses, and can plain his corn, cotton, small grains, or vegetables, or start out as a fruit-grower feeling confident that either way he will be successful.

The county from north to south and has numerous smaller tributaries from the east and west; a drought is almost an unknown thing in this section, and the farmer when he sows his seed in the spring has every reasonable assurance that the time of harvest will yield him a bountiful return for his labor expended.

THE CLIMATE is simply perfection. Winter exists in name only. It is short and mild, and still coid enough to arrest the spread of all maiariai disease. While the summers are warm, their heat is tempered by a

Not only do they manufactures come of the best wootens in the country, but the cloth, when made, is at once converted into garments, thus making the process of manufacture complete. Lack of space forbids a mention of all the manufacturing interests. Suffice it to say that the leading branches are well represented, and there is still room for a number more.

FURLIC INSTITUTIONS.

The city of Waco, not to be outdone by its more pretentious neighbors, has, through the kindness and good-will of one of its enterprising citizens, from Padgitt, secured a fine city park. It is, sithough small, a delightful place of resort, and is one of the most attractive features of Waco for the laboring man to pass away the evening hours in after the head and burden of the day has passed.

DANFORTH WON.

ONE OF A FAMILY OF FIGHTERS KNOCKED OUT IN NEW YORK.

hard-glove fight between Charlie Hilingsworth one of the famous Hilingsworth family of fighting fame, and Tommy Danforth, the feather-weight, came off yesterday afternoom. Very few men witnessed the mill, and those who had that pleasure were forced to part with a $10 note. Charlie Hilingsworth is bus is years old, is a member of the Pastine Athletic Club, and by occupation a glass-worker. Danforth is 28 years old and a boatman. He is one of the shining lights in the Eagle Athletic Club. Only twenty-four men got on a little excursion steamer which, with the fighters and their handlers, steamed from a down-town pier yesterday steamed from a down-town pier yesterday After a landing was effected twenty minutes in closed carriages brought the party to a quiet roadside inn, into which the ropes and stakes, the latter with screw attachments. in closed carriages brought the party to a quiet roadside inn, into which the ropes and stakes, the latter with screw attachments, were taken and the ring was built in an upper room. Charies Illingsworth came into the ring first and wore white financh trousers and black leather fighting boots, with white socks. His colors worn around his waist were red and white. He was seconded by his brother Joe, ex-amateur middle-weight chainpion, and a well-known boxing teacher. Danforth got through the ropes a moment later. He said he weighed only life pounds. He wore drab tights and white rubber sparring shoes, while his body was bare. Whily Oliver, the Harlem boas builder, and a friend seconded the Englishman. The ring was cleared and at call of time, at 5:45 p. m., the men and their seconds shook hands for one of the best fights som in New York for years.

THE FIRST ROUND

was very sauthous and devoted to feinting and trying to ascertain each other's weak part. Danforth's plan of waiting till he could eath his man coming to him and then putting him asleep with a blow on the jaw was very good, while it was just as plain that Illingsworth meant to use the Dempsey tactics and wear his man down with head punishments till he could use his right with safety. The round ended when the three minutes expired without a blow being struck.

THE SECOND ROUND

with safety. The round ended when the three minutes expired without a blow being struck.

THE SECOND ROUND

was almost as cautious. Illingsworth got impatient and sent out his left, but was short. Denforth also missed. Then they both let fly lefts at once, but both dodged. Beautiful sparring ended the round. The first enthusiasm arose in the third round when, after a short left lead from Illingsworth, they got to hugging in the middle of the ring and sent in some good exchanges, puinting each other's heads and bodies a deep red. Time was called white they were clenched. Illingsworth was first to lead in the FOURTH ROUND.

It brought on a clench and some infighting after a good counter, Danforth glving the best and getting a good punch in on Illingsworth's nose but got a bang on his left eye which shut it up. In the first Illingsworth kept up his feinting. Both did some good exchanges in the center and ended the round with a clench on the ropes.

IN THE SIXTH ROUND

Illingsworth got a good left on Danforth's ear. Danforth dodged the next one cleverly and got in a good return on the face. The exchanges this round took place on Illingsworth's side of the ring. Both men went in desperately in the seventh round. Danforth stopped a good one of Illingsworth's and then rushed at him like a bull at a gate. They clinched but broke away when ordered, Danforth stopped a good one of Illingsworth's and then rushed at him like a bull at a gate. and they stood up and made some rattling exchanges in the middle of the ring. When they broke away Illingsworth led on the eye, was heavily countered and he was dazed. He recovered and got in a splendid left straight on his opponent's eye. Both were glad to stretch out in old-time style when they got to their corners.

THE NINTH, TENTH AND ELEVENTH ROUNDS were nearly repetitions, Illingsworth doing the leasing, and apparently having the best of his antagonist, who was reserving his fatel right for use at the proper moment. The twelfth round brought on a desperate struggle at the ropes on Illingsworth's side of the ring. The thirdenth round was in favor of Danforth, who banged Illingsworth on the neck without a return. Then Illingsworth forced the pace and pushed Danforth over into his own corner on the ropes. Illingsworth forced the pace and pushed Danforth over into his own corner on the ropes. Illingsworth forced the pace and pushed Danforth over into his own corner on the ropes. Illingsworth round, but it was stopped just as cleverly. Then he went at Danforth and sent him heavily against the ropes. Danforth seemed surprised. He couldn't catch him with his right. Even exchanges marked the fitteenth round, both catching some hard body and head punishment. The sixteenth and seventeenth rounds were devoted mainly to careful work and repairing of bellows. Illingsworth feinted, and then got in a good left on Tommy's month. THE NINTH, TENTH AND ELEVENTH ROUNDS

THE RIGHTEENTH ROUND.

Danforth rushed in and tried swings and upper cuts. Both were fought on the ropes, and elenched, but broke away. Illingsworth got in some good ones on the face, but was heavily countered for it. Danforth called on Illingsworth to stand up and fight in the twenteth round, and Illingsworth did so, but the Harlemite could not get his right in just yet. The twenty-first round was a great fighting round, Danforth taking the offensive, getting in heavily on Illingsworth's jaw. He tried to upper out and swing his right savage ly, but couldn't catch as he wanted to. Illingsworth had a little the best of the slugging. Then he stood apart, and the Pastine fawarite led. Danforth tried to counter with such force that he fell over a lower rope. Danforth rushed in and planted heavy letts and rights in the twenty-second round. Illingsworth got in a good swinging left on Illingsworth got in a good swinging left on Illingsworth got in a good swinging left on Illingsworth to a good swinging left on Illingsworth to the a good swinging left on Illingsworth got in a good swinging left on Illingsworth forced him to the ropes. The twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth rounds were repetitions, but both did some good hard work and they were getting very tired. Hard hitting took place in the twenty-seventh, Illingsworth gotting it full in the face. The battle went on much in the same manner till the thirty-second round, when both tried to win it without going further. They came together with tremendous force, Danforth having made up his mind to use his left for a while. Illingsworth tried to win it without going further. THE FIRHTY SEVENTH AND LAST ROUND was full of confusion of swings, lefts, rights, counters and dodges. Once both men dodged each other's lefts and ran clear past each other. Not one of the andience dreamed when they saw Illingsworth fall on his back from a right-hander on the jaw that he was knocked out, but Danforth knew it, and called out for no one to touch him. He could not get up inside of ten seconds, and the $200 gold watch and the battle went to Danforth. He won a desperate battle, which lasted, under Queonaberry rules, for th. Thulm. Three and a half ounce gloves were used.

POPLAR STREET'S PERILS. otive Collides with the Fifteen's

Hose Carriage, Killing a Horse. Another accident on the Poplar street rail-ad track occurred to-day. About ten minites to 8 o'clock this morning an alarm of fire was sounded from box 84. The hose carriage of Engine 15 left its house on Fifth street, near of Engine 18 left its house on Fifth street, near Poplar, and turned west on the latter street. When between Sixth and Seventh streets the driver saw a locomotive backing down from the west with a train of cars. He pulled his team close to the sidewalk on the north side of the track, while his comrades waved their rubber coats and otherwise signaled the engineer to go slowly. The train continued to approach, and when close upon the hose carriage the engineer blew the whistle. The horses took fright at the shrill and unexpected noise and shied just as the the locomotive was about to pass. The tender of the locomotive caught the carriage pole, the point of which passed through the tender, letting out the water. The horses were thrown to the ground. The "near" horse was instantly killed by being struck in the head by the tender and the "off" horse had his shoulder so badly hurt that it will probably be necessary to kill him. At the time of the collision there were on the hose carriage the driver, James Butler, and plyemen Tom Rucker and Mike Lyon. Lyon was on the seat with Butler and Rucker was on the footboard behind. All three were thrown to the ground by the shock. Rucker's fall was not hard and the other two escaped injury by alighting on the fallen horses. The horse were thrown as "old Baldy."

Foreman Rucker stated that the engine, Missouri Pactific 886, Larry Kirk, engineer, was ranning at a rate of twenty miles per hour. The speed was so high, so Rucker says, that even after the collision, the engine went almost to the shops. The though the stimate the charge of Foreman Colby. Washington, D. C., May 7.—"The Democratic delegation from Michigan is divided between Mr. Severance of Kalamazoo and Mr. L. D. "But we are not taking much of an active interest in any candidate. There is only one Democratic Representative from the judicial district and the other six think they have little right to interfere."

It provides that whenever the extradition of a fugitive criminal is sought by a state having an extradition treaty with the United States a requisition shall be made to the Secretary of State by a diplomatic representative of the country. This shall be certified to the persons authorized to issue warrants of arrest in extradition cases. Whenever such person issues a warrant without this certificate, he is to forthwith report the fact to the Secretary of State who may order the warrant cancelled. Any person thus arrested; is to 4 be discharged unless within a reasonable time a certificate is received from the Secretary of State, but not within afteen days of his commitment. It is provided, finally, that the President may, in his discretion, order the prisoner's discharge.

Washington, D. C., May 7.—It is not at all likely that the Gladstone resolution will get back from the Foreign Delegations Committee into the Hode. "The American Congress has no business with any such resolution," said a member of the committee yesterday. "In the first place, it took Gladstone a whole day to explain his scheme, and the English people have been several weeks trying to understand it, without success. Yet we are asked to step in and express our approval of it. It would be just as appropriate for us to pass this resolution as for the English Parliament to pass a resolution as for the English Parliament to pass a resolution approving the Morrison bill. Undoubtedly there are a large number of the members of that Parliament in sympathy with Mr. Morrison, but if they should undertake to express that sympathy in an official way, I think we should be inclined so tell them so tend to their own business."

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—The House
Post-office Committee has instructed Congressman Marriman to report favorably a bill recommended by the Post-office Department, recommended by the Post-office Department, for the interpetration of the Spaiding act. This is we was passed in 1883. It was for the readjustment of the spiaries of certain Postmasters, and it is affected Postmasters in office from 1864 to 1874. Under this law and under a ruling of the Attorney-General the department has allowed Si48,000 of claims and paid out $243,000 in satisfaction of them. Spaiding, the author of the law, however, has claimed that the interpretation of the department affirmed by the Attorney-General is wrong. He has claimed that during two years in which these obligations of the government were accumulating, the postmasters were entitled to make out their claims for the whole period, hased on any one quarter, while the Department had decided that the aggregate of the eight quarters was to be taken. The bill reported invalidates the construction of the law made by the Department and the Attorney-General. The Spaiding construction would cost the Government $2,000,000.

EAST ST. LOUIS THREATENS TO PULL DOWN THE EASTERN APPROACH.

WILL RAZE THE BRIDGE.

Bepeal of the Ordinance Which Gave the Illinois & St. Louis Bridge Company the Bight to Occupy Crook Street on the East Side — A Demand for the Payment of

The City Council of East St. Louis is determined to make a vigorous war on the Bridge Company. At this morning's session an ordinance repealing the ordinance granting the company the right to erect the eastern approach over Crook street, and ordering the company to pay within thirty days about $70,000 in judgments obtained against the city by Crook street property owners, or else steps will be taken to have the superstructure removed, was passed. The Bridge Company has for the past ten years refused to pay these judgments. Since the charter to erect the superstructure was granted by the City Council, the Illinois and St. Louis Bridge Company has become the St. Louis Bridge and Tunnel Company, and it is mainly on the grounds that the present company was not bound by the charter granted to the Illinois & St. Louis Bridge Company that payment of the judgments was refused.

THE BRIDGE COMPANT.

A POST-DISPATCH reporter called at the office of the St. Louis Bridge Company this afternoon, but vice-President Taussig could not be found. It was ascertained, however, that the Bridge Company apprehends no serious trouble from the ordinance passed by the East St. Louis Lity Council this morning. The judgments will not likely be paid now that payment has been so successfully resisted for the past ten years or more, but application for an inju ction restraining the city authorities of East St. Louis derives about one-third of its revenue, has refused to pay the city tax this year on various grounds, and it is not unlikely that the company's action in this regard hastened the action taken by the Council this morning, as it is not known that the Crook street property-owners who have judgments at the present time than they have been for several years past.

"pulpit orators," and combining to a delightful degree earnestness and humor his addresses are peculiarly attractive and pleasing.

To-day the Southern Baptist Convention meets at Atlanta, Ga. The following party left the city Wednesday for that point: Revs. A. E. Rogers of Vermont, Mo.; W. F. Harris of Huntsville, Mo.; B. G. Barnard of Hoiden, Mo.; Wm. Harrison Williams and S. M. Brown of the Central Baptist, E. S. Duncan of Montgomery City, Mo.. H. P. Baker, M. D., of Clinton, Mo., and Mr. Lewis E. Kline of this city.

A pastor at Mexico, Mo., having published in the St. Louis Christian Advocate, the Southern Methodist organ, the statement that the M. E. Church had promised to retain the word "North," and had played a mean part in dropping it, Dr. Fry, in the Central Christian Advocate, the Northern organ, gives Dr. M'ansily this rap: "Now, there is not a particle of truth in such a statement, and the editor of the Advocate knew it as well as any other person in the country."

The first attempt of the Evangelical Alliance to units in securing down-town worship will occur Sunday at the old I. M. C. A., at Eleventh and Locust streets, where Rev. Dr. J. H. Brookes, the great Bible expounder, will preach at 4 p. m. The Alliance will in a great measure shape their future action, to be outlined Monday, according to the success of Dr. Brookes' service. The troth of Rev. H. S. Williams' statement that the young men are absent from down town at 4 p. m. Sundays attending base ball games will then probably be more plainly seen.

The Christian Evangelist, the Christian organ, has another fling this week at Rev. J. H. Foy, D. L. L. D., which seems to indicate it can't grow reconciled to the success of Dr. Hrookes' service. The latest letter from Dr. Niccolls of the Second Presbyterian Church was dated Cairo, April 9. He was then to leave the next day for Beyroot, via Alexandria, not to go direct from Alexandria to Europe, as previously reported. His return will be by way of Constantinople and the Danube River. His report of his health was favorable.

The following sentence from the Disciple organical his week will be relished by the Baptists and Presbyterians alike. It was about Rev. Wayland Johnson of Washington, Ill., and read as follows: "He will probably cast in his lot with the Baptists, having grown Calvinistic in some of his views."

The Evangelical Alliance will not suffer from any more bad ventilation, to which the Post-Dispatch will be reliable to the following. Sunday was preaching as a state of the will probably cast in his lot with the Baptists, having grown Calvinistic in some of his views."

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Central Mission, at Eleventh and Locust streets, on Wednesday, the Treasurer, Mrs. E. R. Adams, reported the year's total receipts as $1,645.45, of which individuals gave $25.42 and churches $567. The balance over the expenditures was $85.25, Mrs. Suc Owens, the missionary, in her report, spoke of the number of the calls, $359, she had made in twelve months, and of how the sewing-school had begun with twelve and grew to $60 members. The total number of garments received were $90, and of these 911 had been distributed. The numerous friends of Miss Belle Bacon tendered her a serenade on Tuesday evening at her residence, No. 912 North Twentisth street.

In the papers issued in London, England, just after the great fire in 1666, are to be seen many advertisements of the titled doctors of the day, who called special attention to their individual methods in curing the sick. But times have changed since then. The CODE has sprung up and curtailed the advertising mania of the profession. Now, although the doctors are not allowed to advertise themselves, there is no CODE forbidding us to advertise them. So we take pleasure in not only publicly welcoming them here, but also in calling on our friends and neighbors to do their best to make their visit in St. Louis a very pleasant one, for, bear in mind, the doctors help us into Louis a very pleasant one, for, bear in mind, the doctors help us into this world, and help us out of it also. Hence there is an obligation which we should be slow to forget. It is this feeling which induces us to invite them to call upon us and be SUITED. We know, it is generally admitted, it is hard to SUIT a doctor, but we can do it every time. We never fail, as most of the profession here in St. Louis can testify. DOCTORS, Surgeons, and all others in need of Fine Clothing, Hats and Furnishing Goods for Spring and Summer wear will be benefited by a visit to our establishment, where the latest styles in Fine Clothing, Hats and Furnishings are always to be found.
